BOOSTER TRAIN GREATEST INTEREST OVER MISSISSIPPI

"Know Mississippi Better," Train
Soon To Leave Jackson—Reservations for Trip Now Open—
Live Delegation from Counties Expected.

The movement to advertise the State of Mississippi by sending a special train through ports of the North is intended as the first gesture in a plan to really present the opportunities and possibilities of our State.

We believe that it is necessary to sell Mississippi to Mississippi folks before we can ever succeed with this presentation as we desire.

For this reason the idea of a Special Advertising Train was suggested, believing that this movement would attract the attention of Mississippians, that it would secure wide publicity inside the State before-hand; that those Mississippians who went on the trip would become more and more imbued with the spirit of developing Mississippi; that wide publicity would be had outside of the State and the same reflected within our State and thus the doing of this successfully would awaken our people to the advantage of further efforts toward letting the world know what we have here.

So, at a mass meeting of representatives from all over the State in Jackson, on May 22, this movement was launched and the writer was given the responsibility of the general chairmanship.

The plan as outlined at that meeting and which is sought to be developed is briefly as follows:

A special train of two exhibit cars, one dining car and as many Pullman cars as may be necessary, will be made up at Jackson. The two cars for exhibits will be filled with exhibits of the various resources, and products of the State arranged so as to make a very attractive and striking exhibit.

These products will be selected and packaged by special committees appointed for that purpose and aided by the entire extension, health, educational and department of commerce forces of the State government.

The Pullman cars will be filled with a representative list of passengers from every section of the State of Mississippi. Care will be taken to see that every section is represented and that it is probable that the Pullman will be filled to that, for instance, the Mississippi Coast section will have one Pullman, the North Mississippi section another Pullman, etc., so that neighbors may travel with each other.

Motion pictures of the agricultural and industrial resources of Mississippi will be made and shown on the trip.

At each stop made, competent and able speakers will be arranged for, to tell the story of Mississippi to the assembled gathering.

Each Chamber of Commerce or other commercial body in the State will be asked to send literature descriptive of its town or section to be distributed all along the route of the tour.

Motion pictures will be made during the trip, of the train, the crowd, the points of interest visited, etc., these to be shown all over Mississippi upon the return.

If the trip is a success and awakens the interest among Mississippians, then steps will be taken to have work towards a permanent organization looking to the establishment of a follow up movement and some definite and permanent method of further spreading abroad the story of the opportunities in Mississippi.

The trip is slated to begin August 19 and last ten days. The itinerary will probably be through the States of Mississippi, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Arkansas and others. The total expense of the trip for each person, including Pullman berth, all meals on dining car, railroad fare, etc., will be $149.00. Further information may be had by writing to Dennis Murphy, Jackson, Miss.

EDWARDS BROS. COMPLETE AND EQUIP COMMODIOUS BUILDING.

No private business enterprise in Bay St. Louis has made more progress and material gain than Edwards Bros., the local Ford automobile dealers, located in Main street, opposite the postoffice.

Beginning only a few years since in a new building of their own in Washington street, with what was then thought to be of too ample proportions, Messrs. Edwards began their business. They followed the one successful business policy of fair dealing to one and all and that the customer is always right, supplemented with a liberal supply of newspaper and other advertising for their product, and they soon outgrew their quarters.

Soon they purchased one of the best locations in the city and built a large and substantial brick building. Gradually this, too, became too small, notwithstanding the size was thought first tremendous. Yes, this word well expresses it. It was necessary to look around for larger quarters, to add another story or acquire surrounding grounds. This was no easy task, considering the soaring prices of real estate. But prohibitive prices proved no bar. They soon made a satisfactory agreement for a lease on the Deben property, formerly the Monteleone place, on the beach front, the back of which adjoins their place of business, and soon a new building was in the making. This was recently finished and Messrs. Edwards, ably represented locally by Mr. Louis J. Norman, a manager, were able to move into their new place in addition to the Main street property. The place is called the annex. The writer yesterday had the pleasure of a visit and viewed the modern improvements installed to take care of Ford repair work. The very latest inventions and appliances for the accomplishment of work have been installed and prove of considerable interest, even to the layman.

The floor space has been increased by 6,000 square feet, giving ample room for work and convenience for customers driving in and out. "Machinery of the very latest types, with tools and instruments specially designed by experts for testing and accuracy in workmanship, have been installed," said Mr. Norman to the Echo, "making our shop one of the best equipped on the Coast. We spare no cost to make ours a first class shop in every respect."

"This means that we are now better able to give our customers more efficient service and is in keeping with our policy of better service all the time."

"We want to take this opportunity to thank the public for their patronage, who make it possible for us to give better service."

Although operating under somewhat different names, Messrs. Edwards have business at New Orleans, Gulfport and Biloxi, all housed in handsome and commodious business houses of their own construction and owning. The firm is composed of John K. Edwin W. and Geo. H. also native Bay St. Louisians, who have made good and are entitled to every bit of success that has come to them for their integrity, application and high-class and thorough business methods.

The public is invited to visit the new Bay St. Louis establishment of Messrs. Edwards. It will be a pleasure for Mr. Norman or any of the attaches of the firm to receive and show you around. It is worthy of a visit. We think its title biggest and best thing of its kind on the Mississippi Coast. We say so with pardonable pride.

WOMEN IN CHARGE OF LOCAL ELECTION.

Bay St. Louis Voting Booth on Tuesday in Entire Charge of the Fair Sex—Bay St. Louis Equal to Other Communities.

Bay St. Louis voting poll was in entire charge of the fairer sex on Tuesday for the special election for representative from Hancock county.

If other communities have likewise then Bay St. Louis is equal to the distinction, but there is doubt if the like is noted elsewhere. It seems quite an idea in addition to recognizing women's ability to conduct and to participate in public affairs, for various reasons. There is an atmosphere of more regard and peace and quiet obtains throughout the day.

In charge of Tuesday's special election, Bay St. Louis were Misses Daisy Bordages, Iolanthe Mauffray, Levia E. Engman, Miriam Engman, Olga von Drosowsky, all duly qualified electors and residents of the city proper.

The ladies carried out the work of the day and the final counting and recording of the voting in true and proper manner, true to the form as prescribed by law and making their report to Jackson to the Secretary of State, from which source the successful candidate will receive his commission, signed by the Governor.

CARD OF THANKS.

To The Voters of Hancock County

The results of the election on Tuesday was received with a feeling of deep appreciation, and I take this method of thanking those who so loyally supported me.

I will endeavor to carry out those policies I advocated in the campaign and when the coming Legislature ends you will find that I have done all in my power to accomplish the following:

Repeal of the income and inheritance tax and a constitutional amendment prohibiting such tax.

Abolishing the State Revenue Agent's office.

Reformation and rigid legislation preventing fires over our lands.

Protection of our entire shore front with a sea wall and a concrete road over its entire length.

And such other legislation as will insure the people in other States that the capital they will invest in Mississippi will be protected, and restore their confidence which this State should enjoy.

I want those that voted and worked against me to know that I entertain no ill-feeling against them. As the majority I received was the largest, I am indeed thankful to the people of my county for this distinction and the honor they have bestowed upon me as representative in the State Legislature.

Respectfully,
ROBT. L. GENIN.

MOTORING PARTY.

Quite one of the most enjoyable motoring trips out of Bay St. Louis was enjoyed last Saturday, July 25, by Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Wolfe and daughter, baby Jane, accompanied by Mrs. Wolfe's mother, Mrs. Lydia Sauder-Egan.

The trip was made to New Orleans, entirely overland, via Plaquemine, Bogalusa, Covington, Hammond and Baton Rouge, registering 387 miles.

The party left the Bay at 4 a. m. and arrived at New Orleans at 5 p. m. The happy motorists report a most enjoyable outing, finding all the roads in excellent condition.

The return trip was made on Tuesday, by way of Mandeville, having turned over Lake Pontchartrain on the steamer Susquehanna.

LOUIS FAVRE OF BAY ST. LOUIS MEETS DEATH.

Resisting Arrest and After Stabbing Officer Is Shot and Drops Dead at New Orleans.

Louis Favre, of Bay St. Louis, residing on the Bay-Kiln road, near the intersection of Nicholson avenue, was shot and killed in New Orleans at an early hour Thursday night by Patrolman William E. Gipson.

At the time he was unknown, but later he was identified and the body was shipped to Bay St. Louis and the remains buried yesterday afternoon in this city.

The tragedy occurred in the soft drink establishment of Arthur Vaughan, at 1401 Iberville street. It appears Favre was placed under arrest, and from the version of the police, rest, and stabbed the officer, Gibson, broke loose from Favre's grasp and fired several shots. Payard ran a few steps and fell dead. Vaughan, keeper of the place, was stabbed also. Both men were taken to the hospital and their wounds declared not necessarily fatal.

Favre was well known in the neighborhood where he resided and has been away from home from time to time frequently. In the city of Bay St. Louis proper he was not so well known. He was unmarried.

Farmers' Meeting Held July 23.

Mr. E. M. Graham, agricultural agent of the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad, made a very instructive talk on strawberries last Thursday evening in the school building. Those present seemed much interested and after Mr. Graham explained the preparation of soil, the cultivation, planting and marketing of strawberries, he threw the meeting open to questions and answers. Several asked questions that were not explained in detail in Mr. Graham's talk. The strawberry industry is a large business and requires lots of time and money for one to be successful in producing and marketing them.

Mr. Graham explained that it takes three successive years of growing and handling strawberries to understand them thoroughly, and advised those that intend to grow them not to go into it unless they meant to give it a fair three-year trial. Many persons have already agreed to plant a quarter of an acre this fall, that is, in the Kiln vicinity.

Messrs. S. F. O'Neill and T. E. Keller were present at this enthusiastic meeting.

BUYERS' WEEK, MOBILE.

Wholesale merchants and manufacturers of Mobile have invited buyers from all over the Gulf Coast to attend the fourth consecutive Buyers' Week, August 10th to 15th. All merchants of this vicinity have been invited and it is understood that many are planning to enjoy a few days of Mobile's hospitality.

The program includes registration Monday, the 10th; a trip to the sea shore, bathing and fish fry, Tuesday; baseball and theatre parties on Wednesday; a trip to Fairhope by steamer on Thursday, and the remainder of the week devoted to private entertainment, all of which is free to Mobile's guests.

This will be the fourth consecutive Buyers' Week at Mobile and these occasions are growing in popularity, as they afford the retail merchants an excellent opportunity to take a vacation and to investigate markets for buying fall stocks. There is a fare refund feature that is particularly attractive to buyers.

—More than ordinary interest will be manifested in the building of the Bay St. Louis bridge when actual work will begin. It is stated by those in authority it will take quite a while to put up the structure and considerable men will be employed, thus not only giving labor to home workers but attracting many from outside who will make their home here.

Bridges of this type are not built in a day, on the contrary, since the structure must be rigidly built so as to assure safety at all times, it will take all the longer to build. Operations will be directed from the Bay St. Louis side.

BUILDING OF "EDGEWATER GULF" HOTEL TO START IN SIXTY DAYS

(By A. Chase, in Chicago Sunday Tribune.)

Chicago's new playground, the famous old Mississippi Gulf Coast, stretching twenty-five miles from Biloxi to Pass Christian, is going to have its first metropolitan, sky-rubbing type of de luxe hotel, a $2,000,000 hostelry, designed and built by Chicagoans. It's to be called the Edgewater Gulf Hotel, and in a way will be identified with Chicago's own Edgewater Beach, for interests identified with that famous hostelry will be the owners of the new Dixieland resort.

Ever since the Illinois Central bought the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad last December, linking Chicago directly with Gulfport and its neighbor, Biloxi, Pass Christian, etc., the "Rivers of America," as the railroads have christened this world famous twenty-five miles of resort, has teemed with rumors of new hotels. They've been placed everywhere from Biloxi at the east end of the Gulf boulevard to the Mexican Gulf Country Club, way up inside of Bay St. Louis, a few miles northwest of "The Pass."

Will Replace "The Belmar."

But nary a rumor hit the correct location. It's neither at tourist filled and oyster famous Biloxi or at lovely, aristocratic, sleepy little Pass Christian. Instead, it's going to be one of the well known though medium sized hotels midway between Gulfport and Biloxi, the Belmar, which is to be wrecked at once to make way for the imposing Edgewater Gulf.

Benjamin H. Marshall, whose architectural studio overlooking Wilmette harbor is one of the sights of Chicago (even the Prince of Wales stopped off to give it the royal once over when he was fox trotting across America last year), has designed what is probably the longest and thinnest hotel in the world for the Gulf Coast. It's to be 500 feet in length and only 40 feet wide. That means that every one of the 400 rooms will overlook the Gulf of Mexico.

110-Acre Hotel Site.

The hotel site also is unique in shape. It will only have about 600 feet frontage on the gulf boulevard, but it will widen as it extends north a mile and a half to Biloxi bay, so that its total area will be 110 acres.

Two Venetian canals will bound the hotel grounds on the east and west, linking the gulf with the bay. An 18-hole golf course, two outdoor swimming pools and a 150-car garage will be other features of this club-like hostelry.

According to Mr. Marshall, work will start in about sixty days. Mr. Marshall and William F. Dewey, of the Edgewater Beach Hotel, are the two principal owners of the new Edgewater Gulf Hotel.

Work to Start in Sixty Days.

It will be an all year round resort, for about the time Northerners have been wintering on the Gulf start for home the summer exodus from sizzling New Orleans to the Gulf Coast begins. Strange as it may seem to the Chicagoan who thinks of the South as nowhere to go in summer, June, July and August are the liveliest months of the year along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The reason is that there's nearly always a comfortable breeze from the Gulf, which makes the Coast seem like a bit of Labrador to the broiled New Orleans citizens.

MISSISSIPPI POWER COMPANY TO HAVE OFFICE UPTOWN.

Local Electric Light and Current Company To Move Office and Salesman Head of Main Street. Will Have Fine Exhibit of Goods.

Beginning September 1st, the Mississippi Power Company will have its business office and salesmen uptown, that is, on Front, head of Main street, in the Arnold building, to be made vacant soon by Mrs. W. E. McWilliams, whose family will shortly move to Gulfport.

M. L. Ansley, resident Bay St. Louis manager, and office force will be moved uptown, away from the plant. There will be a show room of electric light fixtures and kindred merchandise and in connection with the office there will also be a salesmen for this class of goods. It has been the intention of the Mississippi Power Company to do this for some time, but a suitable place has never been available. Should the company be able to move earlier than the last it shall do so. It will prove of much convenience to the public, and the company's sales will increase.

Mr. Ansley, connected with the company, was here Thursday making arrangements with The Echo for a campaign of advertising, which will be put on as soon as the office and store are open and ready for business.

BAY ROTARY CLUB GRANTED CHARTER.

Richard Cox, governor for the 16th district, International Rotary, wired Bay St. Louis Wednesday afternoon he had received notification from headquarters that the Bay St. Louis club has been formally granted its charter.

Formal presentation will be made by the district officials on the return of President Ernest J. Leonard, and members of every club on the Coast, and officials from New Orleans will be invited to attend the formal presentation and reception of the charter. It will be quite a gala affair.

After that three members per month will be invited to join the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, which already has taken a hold on the interest and in the minds and hearts of the citizens who now represent it.

At the regular meeting, Wednesday night, Messrs. G. E. Temple, John Osoinach, John DeArmas and C. G. Moore were among the speakers.

A FARM OF INTEREST AND PLEASURE.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Welch, who live on the Bay-Kiln road and have one of the most interesting and successful farms on the Coast, and their hospitable home is always a place one loves to visit. It is a city there are many more places of the kind in and around this vicinity, in order that we may grow and produce more, and thus further enrich ourselves.

In addition to the dairy there is a fine poultry yard, featuring Rhode Island Reds and other breeds of stock. Just now there is a prolific crop of pears and these are sold at a price to private parties that ought to take the crop off the trees in a comparatively short time. A visit to the Welch farm is interesting. Mrs. Welch welcome you. It is located on the Bay-Kiln Road, beyond the big book signboard, and the rural delivery mailbox identifies the place.

NOTICE MEETING OF GUILD.

There will be a meeting of Christ Church (Episcopal) Guild at the residence of Mrs. R. de Montuzin, Front street, on next Tuesday, August 4th, at 3:30 o'clock p. m.

ABOLISH STATE REVENUE AGENT, SAYS SENATOR

Senator Carl Marshall Declares That This Will Cure 90 Per Cent of Mississippi's Evils.

Jackson, Miss., July 30.—Industry and agriculture must go along hand in hand before Mississippi can be expected to reach the ultimate degree of prosperity it should have, Carl Marshall, State senator from Hancock county, said in an address before members of the Jackson Kiwanis Club. But, before this situation can be obtained, the speaker said, there are three legislative reforms that must be obtained, the first being to abolish the office of the State revenue agent and place the attorney general on a salaried, non-fee basis.

"This will cure 90 per cent of the evils of Mississippi," he said. The other two items in the program are to get rid of the statute that compels stock in foreign corporations to be assessed as ad valorem taxes and the graduated scale of income and inheritance taxes. These reforms have been gaining numbers of followers during the past few weeks, and the Coast senator might be termed the "apostle of reform," for he has devoted a large portion of his time in recent weeks to making addresses along the lines of his talk yesterday.

There will be a sharp fight on all three of the points mentioned by him at the next session of the Legislature and it is possible that two if not all of the reforms advocated will become laws. It is expected that the office of the revenue agent and changes in the method of salary requirements of the attorney general will pass and indications are that there will be some changes in the method of taxing the capital stock of a foreign corporation.

Not "Knocking State."

"Some people say that I am knocking the State when I tell a few facts that can be easily verified by anyone who will give the matter sufficient study," Senator Marshall said, "but I am not 'knocking.' I am only presenting facts, and facts that we ourselves should not be ashamed of and which should be a credit to the State. 'Knocking' are a small minority and are largely those who are in office and are living off the people of the State."

He asserted that he had read and conscientiously to be a follower of the administration, and been elected as an administrator, and that many of the things that have been done in the administration policies to which he could not subscribe.

"This latest measure of the revenue is one of them," he said. "The message asks permission of the legislators to allow the attorney general to use a portion of his contingent fund to modify certain statutes of the State. Naturally, where there are so many laws there are overlapping, but I don't think that the attorney general's force is the body to do the work proposed. Why, a federal attorney general would be impeached if he attempted to tell a number of votes on the measure. I am against it. I am against it. I am against it."

"Changes in the federal tax laws will result in a renewed industrial development, according to Senator Marshall, and unless Mississippi gets rid of certain taxing laws that he said will be left out of the wave of development that will spread out over the South. The federal tax law will be changed at the next session of Congress."

Seeks No Public Office.

"I am through with public office. I don't want to be in office again; my interests are wholly for the good and development of Mississippi, and I think that the officials now in power will be cut out. The saw mill people are cutting out as fast as they can now to escape the heavy taxes that are growing heavier every year. As fast as this timber is removed the land is allowed to become idle, and non-productive, thousands of acres are now being abandoned annually in the State because of lack of industries to back up the agricultural industry."

"Mississippi is an exporter and importer State, exporting the raw product and importing the finished product, paying the freight both ways in the long run and losing the ad valorem taxes that would be gained by manufacturing the product here at home. The State manufactures less than 5 per cent of its cotton crop, he said, as compared with 174 per cent in North Carolina, 141 per cent in Georgia.

"Change the taxing laws of Mississippi. Northern industries are being moved out of Wisconsin, Massachusetts and other States to escape unreasonable taxation laws, and this State will receive a good portion of development of the South. But, if we allow the present laws to continue in force, we cannot expect to ride the waves of prosperity."

OUR DEBT TO SCIENTISTS

Among the great mass of ignorant and half-educated people it is very common to hear ridicule directed against science and scientists, especially of late, since agitation over the doctrine of the evolution of man has become a live issue.

In all this history is only repeating itself. People have always fought against ideas which differed from their established opinions and beliefs. Yet all progress has come about through the adoption of new ideas which were at first ridiculed.

Before jumping at the conclusion that an idea is wrong simply because it is new, we should reflect upon what scientists have done for the world. The same class of tireless, patient and courageous investigators who have given us the security and comforts of modern civilization are practically unanimous in their belief in the doctrine of evolution.

These scientists have explored the stars, unerringly predicting eclipses and demonstrating the motions of the earth and other heavenly bodies. They have harnessed electricity to the use of man. They have given us immunity from many of the diseases which formerly scourged the world, thereby doubling the average span of human life. Almost daily they are making discoveries of inestimable importance to the race.

No subject has engaged their attention with more earnestness than that of the origin of man. They have placed their evidence for evolution before the world and all they ask is a respectful and intelligent attitude toward that evidence.

Considering the debt we owe to science and scientists, we may well afford to give them a hearing, whether we finally agree with their conclusion or not.

MORTGAGING THE FUTURE

Most great public enterprises and many private ones are financed by long-time bonds, which run for 30, 40 or 50 years. While these obligations carry a relatively low rate of interest, even at the minimum rate the amount of the principal must be paid several times over before maturity.

One of the longest term bonds that has come to notice is an issue proposed in connection with the financing of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, which went into the hands of a receiver last March, with liabilities exceeding $700,000,000, of which about $470,000,000 is in outstanding bonds and notes. The present interest on these obligations is approximately $23,000,000 a year.

The receivership of the road resulted directly from its inability to meet maturing old bonds to the amount of $48,000,000, this being due, it is said, to increased costs of operation, combined with loss of traffic through competition of the Panama Canal and motor trucks and busses.

Under the reorganization plan worked out by the New York bankers new bonds will be issued to take up a portion of the old ones outstanding. Some of these new bonds will not mature until the year 2000. That is, they will run for 75 years.

Great-grandchildren of the original holders of these bonds will clip the final coupons and by the time these securities mature a generation as yet unborn will practically all have passed on.

Who can imagine the condition of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway 75 years from now? All long-distance freight and passenger traffic may be carried by aircraft long before then, making railways as antiquated as the stage-coach is today.

RAILROAD CENTENNIAL

Celebrating the centennial of England's first railway between Stockton and Darlington, opened in 1825, events connected with that epochal occurrence were recently re-enacted.

George Stephenson's first locomotive, "Puffing Billy," was taken from its place in a museum and drew a replica of the first train pulled over the original line 100 years ago. This time its power was supplied by a gasoline motor concealed beneath the boiler, which is no longer in condition to be fired.

Passengers were dressed in costumes of the earlier day, many notable taking passage, and the Duke of York acting as ticket puncher.

Speed was not a characteristic of the earliest train, as may be inferred from the fact that a single man rode ahead of it on horseback to warn of its approach.

The first three locomotives used in the United States were imported from England in 1829 and were given an initial try-out at Honesdale, Pa., on August 8 of that year. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was worked by horse-power until 1832.

From nothing in 1825, the railroads of the United States have now reached a mileage of approximately 264,000. Next in the list come Canada and Germany, with about 40,000 miles each.

Perhaps methods of transportation 100 years from now will be as far ahead of the present as our modern locomotives are ahead of "Puffing Billy" and its flagman on horseback.

EXPERIENCE OF A TRAMP

After a hike from Newark to Cincinnati and return, Harry W. Butz, an evangelist, formed a very poor opinion of the human race. He declared that "little inclination was shown to give aid to an unfortunate stranger and summarized his experiences thus:

Only one automobile out of thirty gave him a ride when asked to do so. He was held up once for every 118 miles traveled, but one-third of the hold-up men gave him money when he explained his condition.

Preachers, church officials, business and professional men and charitable agencies gave aid only once out of twenty appeals made.

For every person who offered him coffee, six offered him whiskey.

Lying by the roadside pretending sickness or injury, only one car out of fifty stopped to offer assistance.

In all 232 cars passed without slowing down.

Butz made the trip as a tramp for the purpose of getting such data as he claims above at first hand, hence he claims to have kept an accurate account of the incidents mentioned. He thinks "Good Samaritans are scarce."

Whether this is a fair indication of the American attitude toward the casual wayfarer on foot is difficult to judge, but if his story is true he must have run against an unsympathetic crowd, or failed to impress them with his need of assistance.

NEW TERROR TO YEGGS

Reports of the successful operation of a small flask of poison gas called Lewisite after its inventor, Prof. Lewis, of Northwestern University, give promise of its effectiveness in foiling the efforts of safe-crackers and other bandits.

Placed in the vault of the Citizens' Bank of Elkhart, Ind., the flask broke as intended when burglars worked at the combination, the released gas forcing them to rush from the place, leaving the job unfinished.

This most deadly gas was perfected during the latter part of the World War, but not in time for use on the battlefield. It is so powerful, it is said, that a relatively small quantity would make a large area worthless for crop vegetation for ten years.

Should its use for bandit protection become general, the up-to-date yeggman will need a highly impenetrable gas mask as a part of his standard equipment.

Many years ago a little Jewish boy tailed barefooted as a deckhand on the forecastle of a British ship in Calcutta harbor. He left Calcutta recently for a visit to England, where he is known as Earl Reading, governor general of India since 1921. Few boys ever made a longer jump than that.

The reproduction from the Chicago Tribune regarding the construction of the Edgewater Beach Hotel for the Mississippi Gulf Coast, will be read with renewed interest. That construction will begin in 60 days, is noteworthy.

WHAT'S NEW?

Effective at a height of three miles a new anti-aircraft machine gun shoots between 500 and 600 shots a minute.

By a new tanning process shoes may be made more comfortable and the life of the leather greatly prolonged.

When officials threatened to make him take "truth pills," a negro in Copiah county, Mississippi, confessed to stealing an automobile.

CHARITY CRAFT CHARGED

Bird S. Coler, commissioner of public welfare at New York City, declares that many so-called charitable agencies pocket at least 50 percent of the money collected from the public.

This statement was made before a conference of charities and corrections recently held at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and coming from such an authoritative source is entitled to consideration.

Many "welfare" campaigns are conducted by professional workers on a percentage basis, whereby the promoters and their friends reap great personal benefits, according to Mr. Coler. These "social workers" are often mere parasites, who exploit the generous impulses of the average citizen for their own profit and glorification.

This should not discourage charitable persons from giving to really worthy causes—through time-tried agencies, like the Red Cross, for instance, but it should be a warning against fly-by-night organizations that exist principally for the purpose of giving a lot of pseudo-uplifters an opportunity for easy pickings.

GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many Bay St. Louis Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant directed to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Bay St. Louis people. Profit by this Bay St. Louis resident's experience:

S. C. Larkin, prop. of grocery, 218 Union street, says: "I had a continual dull ache in my back and often the pains extended into my shoulders. Headaches came on me, too, and my kidneys acted sluggishly. I used Doan's Pills and they cured me; as the trouble has never returned."

Mr. Larkin is only one of many Bay St. Louis people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S PILLS, the same that Mr. Larkin had and the remedy backed by home testimony. 50 cents at all dealers.

Railroad Securities

play an important part in University Endowments

Nearly one hundred and fifty million dollars worth of railroad stocks and bonds are held by American Universities, many of our leading colleges and technical schools having been endowed with these securities. These securities are the most profitable investments practically three percent of the production of the securities. Thus it will be seen that the endowment of the youth of this country is in a very real sense dependent upon the continued success of railroad operations.

The railroad most operated at a profit in order to meet these bonds and pay dividends on this stock. Think of this when you can say a word for the railroads of the United States, which you can give assurance of operation and maintenance of the same. The railroad transportation system is all the world to the youth of this country.

Louisville & Nashville Railroad Securities are held by many of our universities and technical schools. The Louisville & Nashville Railroad is one of the most successful of the world's great railroads. Its securities are held by many of our universities and technical schools. BASEBALL Cue's Lime Colas Put Lakeshore Team to Rout—Defeat the Stingers by Score of Five to Two.

Dick Cue's aggregation of ball players have rounded out into what is known as Class A stuff, and are playing a brand of ball that forces recognition any old where. They have team work and are enthusiastic to win games; two qualifications essential to success.

What the team needs most is some strong—and stronger—teams to play against that will put them on their toes and bring out the dormant fighting spirit.

Last Sunday the Lime Colas met and defeated the strong team of picked players representing our sister city, Lakeshore, and where they didn't set the world afire, they managed to wallop the visitors neatly.

"Ain't He-Gran" Blaize (the Mayor's eyes), the backstop who is a mainstay of the Colas, was on the bench nursing a crippled hook that got divers and sundry blisters thereon by the axe route, and couldn't play.

Leroy Bontemps, versatile player, held down the position behind the bat and added to his laurels.

"Cotton" Collier was on the mound for the Lime Colas and let the visitors down with but bare hits. Summers, twirling ace for the Stingers, allowed a total of nine bingles, but kept them well scattered.

A much better crowd of fans was on hand to witness the game, showing that local teams draw much better than city tossers.

By Innings.

Lakeshore, first: Lafontaine caught one of Cotton's shots and sent it out into center field for a double. Things looked squalid, but Cotton tightened the bolts in that right wing and O. Ladner went easy out, pitcher to first. Dan Fayard flew out to second; Lafontaine attempted to get a berth on third but was caught.

Lime Colas, first: Strong went out, pitcher to first; Hippo Phillips sent one just inside first base for a single, but died on second when Leroy Bontemps hit to second, resulting in a double play.

Lakeshore, second: Clay's third strike passed by the catcher and he was safe; Joulain hit to second, forcing Clay; a double was attempted, but Hippo threw wild to first and Joulain took the keystone. Johnson flew to left; Summers got a pass; Russ hit safely through second, scoring Joulain, and Summers was nipped off third base.

Lime Colas, second: Ladner flew to short. Wally Bontemps singled over second, but was caught trying to pifer second base. Mares put a Texas Leaguer over short and stole second, but died there when Jim Collier hit to first and was out.

Lakeshore, third: Green out, second to first; Lafontaine lined to first. O. Ladner hit to short and Perre dropped the throw, Ladner going to second. Fayard hit to second and scored on a wild throw to first. Clay hit to third, safe on dropped ball. Joulain struck out.

Lime Colas, third: Perre out, pitcher to first. Cotton hit in front of plate and was thrown out. Strong beat out an infield hit and stole second; Hippo singled to left, scoring Strong; Hippo took third on a passed ball, but died there when Leroy whiffed.

Lakeshore, fourth: Johnson out, pitcher to first. Summers popped to Perre and Russ cracked a long fly that Wally scooped up in a most spectacular catch that brought the stand down.

Lime Colas, fourth: Ladner whiffed. Wally died, pitcher to first. Mares drove a double to center, but Jim Collier flew to left.

Lakeshore, fifth: Green lined to first. Lafontaine popped to Ladner at third. O. Ladner drove a long fly to the left garden and Wally made another one of those beautiful catches that robbed the hitter of a couple of bases.

Lime Colas, fifth: Perre singled

LOCAL BOXER SCORES AT BILOXI.

Roger Heitzmann Wins Over Roy Ewing.

Fighting in the semifinals on the card with the Pockie Lockie-Raph Ewing scrap on last Tuesday evening at Biloxi, Roger Heitzmann won handily all through the six rounds over Roy Ewing. Where it was impossible for the Bay boy to put Ewing out for the count, he made a chopping block out of Roy's face and had him at his mercy throughout the mill.

Heitzmann is a local lad and is managed by "Dad" Heitzmann. He has been in the ring ever since a kid, is a bear for punishment and a great favorite with the Biloxi fans, attested by the fact that they accorded him a great ovation on Tuesday when he won.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

The Hotel Weston was the scene of one of our most delightful mid-summer social affairs last Saturday evening, when Mr. A. S. Evans entertained a number of friends at a dinner dance.

While an excellent dinner was being served dancing to the strains of music furnished by the Greeland Syncopators was enjoyed by the guests.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Weston, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Weston, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Weston, Misses Mary Perkins, Mildred Miller, Clara Lopez, Myra Summers, Irene Weston, Lucille Weston, Diana Evans, Dorothy Weston, Anna Leleune, Messrs. E. C. Weston, H. C. Weston, George Black, A. C. Weston, W. C. Otis, C. L. Weston and Cenas Gaines.

Miss Dorothy Weston, of Logtown is visiting her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Leo W. Seal and Leo W. Seal, Jr., at their home in Carroll avenue. Miss Weston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Weston, are visiting their son, Roland, and family, in Portland, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Leonharc left Saturday evening for New York en route to Swampscott, Mass., where President Coolidge is spending the summer. They were met by quite a number of friends at the depot to give them a cheerful "bon voyage" and safe return. They will be gone to the latter part of August.

A beautiful dinner-bridge was given by Mr. and Mrs. Albin S. Spess at the Hotel Weston Thursday night in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau on the occasion of their early departure for a summer trip North and East and in compliment to a number of their friends. The table was exquisitely appointed with flowers and trailing maiden hair fern. The center piece of the table was effective and unique, to say nothing of its appropriateness in the shape of a miniature train, and at each place in addition to the clever place cards was an individual piece of baggage in box shape, filled with candies, and an individual present for the hostess of the evening. Those present, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Spess, were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Ion, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Evans, Mrs. Clarence Jaubert Sueich, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Miss R. Leconte. There were three tables of bridge and the contestants well rewarded for their skill with clever prizes. Mr. and Mrs. Spess' dinner-bridge was one of the handsomest and outstanding affairs of the season. Commensurate with good taste, there was nothing spared.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Rea entertained at their handsome and hospitable home in Washington street last night in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, to which a limited number of close friends were present. Bridge was the order of the evening. Mrs. C. J. Puerch and Mr. A. S. Spess carrying off the honors of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Spess, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Mrs. M. H. Wheeler, of Americus, Ga.; Mrs. C. J. Puerch, Mrs. S. A. Power, Miss E. Lacoste, Mrs. V. V. Yates. In the early part of the evening Miss Lacoste rendered vocal selections. The affair was most delightful in every way.
